

About Turntable

In Fall 2021, Madison Spencer had the inspiration to create a wine brand that gave back to the community. Her goal was to target like-minded individuals who share a love for quality wine, good music, and art. Most importantly, she wanted the wine brand to portray everything she found beautiful in this world. Hence, the creation of Turntable Cellars.

Turntable Cellars is a women-owned wine brand, located in San Luis Obispo, California. With the help of her winemaker father, Stuart Spencer, the wines are created at their family winery, St. Amant. Although Turntable is very small, as they only sell limited batches of wine, they have created quite the impact within the San Luis Obispo community. Twenty-five percent of profits earned go to a chosen non-profit. Hence, each wine is created with a unique soul and purpose.

Quality Wine

Turntable Cellars understands it takes exceptional quality grapes to make fantastic tasting wines. The relationship between the farmer and the vintner is critical to truly expressing the quality of a vineyard. Turntable Cellars gets their grapes from a variety of Lodi vineyards carefully selected by Stuart Spencer, of St. Amant Winery. These vineyards include the family vineyard in Amador County, Mohr Fry Ranch, Marians vineyard, and Leventini vineyard.
